

I am a file submission

I'm being read!

“And now it is me who is being read,” read the sentence. Quite odd, thought Frank whilst he stared at the pixels. Quite odd indeed. His mind wandered off to obscurely complex SQL queries and well-formed XML. Oh yes. Nothing was quite as soothing as a long document of well-formed XML. His eyes widened. He knew what he had to do.

He had to insert a picture of a tree on a hill. There. Perfect; Frank was done for today. Another job well done!
